At the end of 2012, an all-destroying pole shift is waiting for us, one of the thousands that have already taken place in the history of the earth. However, this time it will be completely different. Because our ancestors from a distant past had calculated in advance the previous one and escaped with their knowledge; we are now living in a highly-advanced civilization that will be turned into dust in 2012.

Intense solar radiation from gargantuan solar storms will torment the earth.

Unless, of course, we take the necessary measures beforehand.

With this website, I want to prepare the biggest rescue operation ever. Someone has to take the responsibility to prepare for the total destruction of civilization as we know it, and plan for the continuation and restoration of the knowledges and standards that we know now. I have taken that decision to be the responsible person.

A couple of years before 2012, the survival strategy as outlined in "How To Survive 2012" will be published on this website. However, you have to take into account that you will need at least 5,000 euros to have a reasonable chance for survival; 10,000 euros is a more realistic amount. You will need this money to buy the following:

- Enough survival material
- Food for at least a year
- Seeds of vegetables, grains, rice and seed-potatoes
- Essential equipment to start a mini-civilization
- Books

Furthermore, part of this money will be used for building bunkers. This deserves some explanation.

Our place of survival will be in the Drakensberg mountains in Southern Africa. As we will be in high mountains, we will be tormented by super storms as well as by intense solar radiation. The only way to survive is to live in concrete bunkers or in pits with good shored-up walls. Only small quantities of iron can be used in the construction because it attracts thunderbolts. We will probably have to plead forcefully with the authorities in order to get the necessary permits.

In order to withstand the tidal wave we will have to be at least three kilometers above the current sea level. I wish the central group to be located in the most suitable place, in order to create a stable bridgehead. From that point, civilization can be restarted.
