YEAR 2012 AD

Something wonderful is about to happen!

Are You Sensing Something Is Changing In The World?
Is Something Nagging In The Back Of Your Mind About The World?
Do You Sense The World's Religions Are Desperate To Maintain Control?
Do You Find Yourself Daydreaming About The Universe?
Does Your Body Feel Different Somehow?
Do You Feel Drawn To Something, But Don't Know What?
Do You Sense A Global Shift Of Consciousness is Occurring?
Does It Seem Time Is Speeding Up?

If you answered YES to any of the these questions, you may be already becoming aware of the changes that have begun. What are these changes? To find out, read the following information:

Does this number mean anything to you 13.0.0.0.0 ? Perhaps this number makes more sense: Dec. 21st, 2012 AD. They are both the same date, expressed differently. We recognize the familiar calendar date of December 21st, 2012, but most of us are unfamiliar with the date 13.0.0.0.0 from the ancient Mayan long count calendar from some 2,300 years ago. What could a date in the near future, have in common with a date predicted in the distant past? The answer is complex and varied, but essentially, the Mayan Calendar ENDS on this date. Why would the ancient Mayans choose a date 2,300 years in the future to abruptly end their calendar? Did they know something we do not know? Are they warning us about something? Were they trying to tell us something? We will explore what the answer could be...

We will look at several incidents, occurrences, facts, speculations, theories etc. to understand the great significance of what mankind may be experiencing as we approach the year 2012. Including: DNA Upgrades, The Mayan End Date, The Quickening, The Aquarian Age, The Next Human Evolutionary Leap, Global Consciousness and more.

YEAR 2012 INTRODUCTION

The year 2012 is fast approaching, and it may mark the beginning of something revolutionary, or it could be nothing at all. Most people know nothing of this date, and for many, it will come and go without they're knowledge. But you are different, because you are reading this, you will become aware. Why concern yourself with Dec. 21st 2012? Well, it may in fact, be the very thing humanity has been waiting for. Countless theories abound as to what significance this date will play in our lives. For most, the date is a hopeful exciting time, that will bring about global changes to the very essence of life. What these changes will be are unclear. We will explore what are the most popular ideas. One thing's for certain, the Earth has already begun moving into the Age of Aquarius. Each age is about 2150 years. As our planet spins through space, we are now leaving the Piscean Age. This could relate in someway to the Mayan End Date 13.0.0.0.0 (Dec. 21st 2012).

The Maya were the last of the American Indians whose great civilization was destroyed by Spanish conquerors. They lived in an area which is what we now call modern-day Guatemala, Belize, Honduras, El Salvador, and southern Mexico. The Maya civilization was advanced in some fields, notably astronomy, architecture, and mathematics. The Maya calendar was the most accurate and complex of any known to humanity because the Spanish destroyed most of what they came across. One thing that survived, was their calendar, a series of sophisticated calendars with remarkable accuracy and complexity.

The Classic Maya civilization was unique and left us a way to incorporate higher dimensional knowledge of time and creation. By tracking the movements of the Moon, Venus, and other heavenly bodies, the Mayans realized that there were cycles in the Cosmos. From this came their understanding of time, and a calendar that accurately measures the solar year to within minutes.

For the Maya there was a time for everything and everything had its place in time. The priests could interpret the heavens and calendar. As the result they could control the daily activities of the populace. Knowing when to plant, when to harvest, the rainy and dry seasons, etc. gave them total power and control. Their comprehension of time, seasons, and cycles was immense.

The Maya understood 17 different Calendars based on the Cosmos. Some of these calendars span millions of years and are so difficult that you would need an astronomer, astrologer, geologist, and a mathematician just to work out the calculations. They also made tables predicting eclipses and the orbit of the planet Venus. Even mathematicians of today would find some of these calendars a real challenge.

The calendars that are most important to beings of earth are the Haab, the Tun-Uc and the Tzolk'in. The Tzolk'in is the most important and the one with the most influence. These 3 calendars were circular and together created the Mayan Long Count.

- The Haab is based in the cycles of earth. It has 360 + 5 days, totaling 365 days. The Haab uses 18 months with 20 days in each month. There is a 19th month called a Vayeb and uses the 5 extra days. Each month has its own name/glyph. Each day uses a sacred sun/glyph.
- The Tun-Uc is the moon calendar. It uses 28 day cycles that mirrors the women's moon cycle. This cycle of the moon is broken down into 4 smaller cycles, of 7 day each. These smaller cycles are the four phases of moon cycle.
- The Tzolk'in is the Sacred calendar of the Maya and is based on the cycles of the Pleiades. The cycle of the Pleiades uses 26,000 years, but is reflected in the calendar we are using by encompassing 260 days. It uses the sacred numbers 13 and 20. The 13 represents the numbers and 20 represents the sun/glyphs. The Tzolk'in has four smaller cycles called seasons of 65 days each guarded by the four suns of Chicchan, Oc, Men and Ahau. There are also Portal days within the Tzolk'in that create a double helix pattern using 52 days and the mathematics of 28. This sacred calendar is still being used for divination by the traditional Maya all over the Yucatan, Guatemala, and Belize, and Honduras.
The Tzolk'in calendar was meshed with a 365-day solar cycle called the "Haab". The calendar consisted of 18 months with 20 days (numbered 0-19) and a short "month" of only 5 days that was called the Wayeb and was considered to be a dangerous time. It took 52 years for the Tzolk'in and Haab calendars to move through a complete cycle.

Archaeologists claim that the Maya began counting time as of year 3114 B.C. This is called the zero year and is likened to January 1, 1 AD. All dates in the Long Count begin there, so the date of the beginning of this time cycle is written 0-0-0-0-0. 13 cycles of 394 years will have passed before the next cycle begins, which is in year 2012 A.D. (13-0-0-0-0).

The Maya were very interested in the movements of the earth, sun, moon, stars, & Venus. They knew there were 365 days in a year. At right is the ancient Mayan Pyramid Chichen Itza, Yucatan, Mexico. The Pyramid of Kukulcan at Chichén Itzá, constructed circa 1050 was built during the late Mayan period, when Toltecs from Tula became politically powerful. The pyramid was used as a calendar: four stairways, each with 91 steps and a platform at the top, making a total of 365, equivalent to the number of days in a calendar year.

How these calendars work, is not really important here. A brief glimpse at this unique society is all that is required to understand how sophisticated they were, and there may be something to their calendar that relates to us currently. To understand more of how their Long Count end date 13.0.0.0 effects us, we must look at their prophecies and beliefs.

THE MAYAN PROPHECIES

The belief system of the Maya are vast and complex. They were avid skywatchers, completely understanding the cycles and rhythms of the solar system, even over thousands of years. They used a glyph type alphabet to convey language and meaning, not unlike the Egyptians and other cultures. The glyphs used by the Maya however, are extremely complicated and difficult to interpret. Archeologists have just now begun to understand them. The symbols used are beautiful and full of meaning. One such symbol is the Sacred Tree. This glyph relates to the subject of the Mayan End Date on the long count calendar. The glyph represents a future astronomical crossroads. A time in the future when our solar elliptic crosses into the galactic equator. One of the great dark bands in the Milky Way Galaxy. In fact, the day of the winter solstice in Dec. 2012, our sun will be in the center of this galactic equator. (not to be confused with the galactic center.) It's astounding they figured this out years before modern astronomy.

One of the greatest Mayans was a wiseman known as Pacal Votan. He was an Avatar, a enlightened man who predicted much and understood how things worked. He left the Mayan people with much understanding of the universe and several prophecies.

One of the greatest prophecies known is called the Living Prophecy:

Known as Time's Special Witness, 7th century Mayan prophet Pacal Votan left a universal message for future generations of an evolving Earth.

Proclaiming, "If Humanity Wishes To Save Itself From Biospheric Destruction It Must Return To Living in Natural Time," he foretold of our accelerated technological society, and the resulting damage of our collective divergence from Natural Law in exchange for materialist values.

Known as a magician of time, he understood mathematics, or numbers, as a type of language that transcends the subjectivity of human verbal experience. His sentiment "All is number. *God is a number. God is in All." is an intriguing way to catalogue the Maya's message that we are intimately linked with and informed by the Galaxy. All of life is ordered by the same basic, re-occurring patterns.

*In the Yucatec Mayan language, the word "Hunab Ku" means Source - The One, Giver of Movement and Measure, the galactic core, "God".

 Panel Yotari's prophetic, speaks of the closing of this world age cycle on December 21, 2012. As this date approaches, we are ceasing to exist in a transition phase of the old world dying and a new world being born. 21 Help
 Based on knowledge of the larger cycles of time as mapped by the ancient Maya, Panel Yotari knew that humanity 2007 2009 2010 become disconnected from the laws of the natural world and would fall ignorant of our sacred interdependence with nature. He also knew that modern humanity would be put to the test to see if we can regain our conscious connection to natural time as the universal frequency of synchronization, evolving beyond the constructs of man-made linear time.

This prophetic transmission is clearly demonstrated in the mathematical ratio constants of natural and artificial timing frequencies. Can humanity, as a whole, awaken to the discrepancy of our man-made timing standard that has set us apart from the rest of nature, and get back in harmony with the timing frequency of the Living Universe?

From his studies into ancient Mayan Time-Science, Dr. Jose Arguelles decoded the mathematical nature of the Synchronic Order, The Law of Time:

There is only one timing frequency which unifies the whole galactic order from its largest constituent to its smallest. This timing frequency is the 13:20 ratio, found within the harmonic structure of the 13 moon calendar as well as our human bodies - our 13 main joints and 20 fingers and toes. All other forms of time are man-made and unnatural. This is why 13 and 20 were sacred numbers to the Maya and their calendars were based around them.

natural time: = 13:20 ratio
13 annual moon cycles, 20 fingers and toes;
13 Tones of Creation, 20 Solar Seals

artificial time: = 12:60 ratio man-made 12-month calendar, mechanical 60-minute hour

We are being invited to realize that we are Time. We are the Living Prophecy. The Synchronic Order of Natural Time governs the unfolding of our lives. Time's cycles are found within our bodies and within Nature's daily rhythms and cyclic seasons. We have forgotten this, thinking that time is money or that time is the clock, or the relentless progression of work weeks and weekends. Time is the ever-changing, unfolding now as it synchronistically coordinates the Whole Living Universe. The Mayans believed that this will be the start of a new great age. The Golden Age. Our culture will call this the Age of Aquarius. This great age will be an awakening to our true potential. A universal conscience will be awakened to our natural connections to the rhythms of the cosmos, and to the 13:20 natural time frequency. A rebirth will begin that will re-connect us to our divinity. In fact, instead of the number 13 being considered bad luck. Just the opposite is true, and it could be very lucky indeed. Could 13 actually be the key to god or the universe? Quantum physicists studying string theory (a study of a subatomic theory of everything) have actually already calculated there are 11 dimensions not just 4, and most think there maybe more. Could there be say, oh i don't know, 13 dimensions? Just a guess...!

THE QUICKENING

Do you feel like time is accelerating? The day is over before you know it? The Pace Picks Up Speed! Our Age of Technology seems to have squashed time. We're packing so much more into every moment that rather than having the effect of stretching time, time appears to be moving more quickly. This phenomenon is further exaggerated by the quickening of events and activities around the world. Wherever we look, whether at the political, financial, environmental or cultural arenas of life, we find things in chaos, events moving too fast for anyone to "get a grip", to make any sense of, or long-term plans around.... Global Warming? Poles melting and shifting? Mother Earth seems to be in revolt... the whole world seems to be spinning out of control, shifting off its very axis... Every month seems to be gone before you can believe it. Every year passes faster than the last. Is it perception or reality? Perhaps it is both. We forget that Einstein proved time is relative, not stationary. When we accelerate to great speeds, time will slow. Conversely, if we slow down, time will accelerate.

We are currently in a time known as the Quickening. This is the time when the earth is undergoing great changes. Some of these changes are mankind's assault on the planet, but that doesn't explain all of it. Some believe the earth's spin is slowing and a magnetic pole reversal is going to happen as it has several times in the past during the Earth's 4 billion + year history. It's possible our entire solar system is slowing in its journey around the galaxy. If either or both of these slowing are happening, this would account for acceleration of time. Some of these changes are brought about by the earths changing frequencies caused by our planetary alignment with the galactic equator. This frequency change will bring humanity out of their currently slumber. We may be awakening to a universal frequency that will accelerate our evolutionary path. Some believe this frequency change may bring about physical changes to our bodies. Possibly even causing our DNA to upgrade if you will, to change from a 2 strand DNA to 4 or more strands. These changes will take several years, perhaps even a couple hundred. Our minds will benefit most from any accelerated evolution. A greater mind will accelerate our understanding of the universe. Perhaps a universal understanding of each other and of our cosmic journey will bring an end to the petty bickering that has befallen mankind, and bring about a revolution of learning. This Quickening will last for several dozen years and as we move further from the galactic equator, time will once again begin to slow.

DNA UPGRADES

As eluded to in the previous section, DNA upgrades may be coming our way. You or I will probably not see these upgrades, they will happen over the next several generations. As we enter the Age of Aquarius, universal energies will be strong and these energies may work to accelerate our evolution. Both in the physical sense and in the spiritual sense. Our DNA will mutate into more than 2 strands. As this upgrade occurs, we will find our minds will be upgraded as well. We will be able to use most of our brains instead of just the 10% we currently use. The capacity to understand will be phenomenal. We could all be smarter than Einstein. This would be a great opportunity for humanity to overcome all that has held it back. We have come far as a species in just a few thousand years, but what we learned in all that time will now be exponential. In just a few hundred years, we may fully understand not only the origin of the Cosmos, but our place in it. As discussed earlier, we may become aware of the natural time of a 13:20 ratio and build our lives around this natural time. We will have the power to build just about anything. We will freely explore the universe and discover many of the other life forms in it. We will be able to tap into our psychic potential. Seeing into the unseen. Knowing the unknown. Understanding the power of the mind as never before. (more on DNA upgrades coming)

AGE OF AQUARIUS

INTERNET ARCHIVE

First let's discuss the previous era known as the Piscean Age, the age of the fish. The fish is the symbol of the Christ faith. Before the Age of Pisces, there were in an era known as the Age of Aries, the age of the ram. The ram is symbolic with Egyptian, Hebrew, and Arabians. As we left the Age of Aries, the time of the Christ cults. These cults have grown and expanded over 2000 years, thanks mostly in part to the Romans taking eventually forcing Christianity on all people regardless of their faith. If you were part of the Roman Empire, you became part of this religion or death and persecution was likely. It became the only accepted form of faith the Romans would tolerate. Without the mighty Roman empire, the Christ cults perhaps would have never left the ignorant desert dwellers from which they sprang.

We are now once again at a point in history, where the very position of the Earth in space, may in fact influence us in ways we do not understand. Are we ready to move beyond the Christ cults? Could we really abandon something so ingrained in us that we believe Christ is the only path we can take to the divine? I believe we can and will. It's almost our destiny to change our beliefs about every 2500 years or so. People forget that the once mighty Egyptians, Romans, and Greeks believed in something other than Christ. In fact, to this day, Christians cannot even agree on their own faith, hence, the multitude of splits from the Roman Church which have given rise to countless Christian faiths. There are an estimated 22,000 forms of Christianity including, protestants, Lutherans, Mormons, and of course, the most powerful and dangerous cult to date, the Evangelicals. And with each new split of Christianity comes more insanity. Each cult becomes more distant to its original Catholic origins. Each believes they alone hold the truth. When in fact, none of them have the truth. The closest to the truth, would be the very church they have left, the Roman Catholic church. The Catholic church is Christianity, so all who came after, are wanna-bees. Yet not even the Catholics hold the truth. They will tell they do, as all churches do. But they, like every other are simply using the masses to further their own power and existence. This is what people of all religions will not admit to themselves. As we leave the Piscean Age and spin into the Aquarian Age, we leave behind the age of the fish. And yes, perhaps even the Christ cults.

The Age of Aquarius is believed to have begun sometime in the 1980's. Although since we cannot be 100% accurate of our calendar, this date could be anywhere from the mid 1980's to the early 2000's. At any rate, most people believe we are already in it. The Earth's march along the Constellations is due the earth spinning on a tilted axis in a process known as precession. The earth wobbles in its journey around the solar system caused by the gravitational pull of the moon, and as a result, the Earth's axis is pointing to a different set of stars about every 2150 years. This journey around the constellations is timeless and will continue for millennia. There are 12 constellations that the Earth points to and each lasts about 2150 years and it takes about 25,800 years to complete one journey through all the constellations.

Most people feel the Age of Aquarius will bring about positive things for humanity. Including a renewed connection to our only home, the Earth. Earth-centered religions have enormous ground swells of interest. Peoples from all over the globe are coming together to save a planet in jeopardy. Interest in Spirituality is at an all time high. Over the last few years, as organized Fundamentalist religions have reared their ugly heads, more and more people are turned off by the hatred and intolerance. Seeking a return to spiritualism, instead of an extreme dogma written by madmen. The New Age will guide us to more tolerance and compassion for our fellow human. A pushing away of our hurried artificial time keeping and a return to cyclic calendar would better connect us to our planet, each other, and the universe. The future looks bright in the Age of Aquarius.

MANKIND'S EVOLUTIONARY LEAP

The future for mankind may be grim, or it may be extraordinary. If we can overcome the destructive forces of our instincts and behaviors, great things are going to happen for us all. The possible futures are unknowable of course, but they need not be horrible. We as individuals can influence the direction mankind will take. Giving into a global shift of consciousness is the first step. We all have a right to live on this planet, we all are of the same species, the Cosmos gave birth to us. We must all learn to get along despite our differences. We must see ourselves as the fragile oasis we are, against the infinite universe. And we must also understand we are a part of that infinite universe. A mere dot, or thread perhaps, but an important part of it none the less. If we realize we are part of the cosmos, we can tune into the cosmos. Becoming a vessel for cosmic energy. This energy will transform us in ways we cannot imagine.

GLOBAL AWARENESS

Our growing global awareness will only magnify through the coming century. As each culture becomes more aware of each other through the use of technologies such as TV, Radio, Cell Phones, Satellites, Computers, Internet etc., we naturally can expect to become more aware of our similarities instead of our differences. This results in more understanding for the overall human condition. We start thinking globally instead just about ourselves and the same is happening around the world. We begin to see our fragility on this tiny blue marble we call Earth, alone in the vastness of space. A new global consciousness is currently begun. Masses are in tune with each other. Something is awakening in humanity as never before. Billions sense something is about to happen, but don't know what it is. Were the Mayan's right? Are we about to enter the Golden Age of humanity? It seems we are!

UNIVERSAL MEMORY

As our global awareness grows, we as a species will be in more tune with the Cosmos and with each other. As our minds give into this global consciousness, we all will sense our universal memory. What is universal memory? It's the memory of our existence, our experiences, of our evolution over billions of years. It is the very core of who we are and how we connect to the universe. Our very cells hold this memory as do all living things. It's a symbiosis of all life on Earth from the first bacteria, to the dinosaurs, to humanity itself. This very knowledge is written in our genetic code. Our bodies know this info and it's just a matter of time before our brains to know it also.

CONCLUSIONS

The Golden Age is upon us. How we choose to accept it will decide whether we enter this new frontier blindly kicking and screaming, or gracefully with our eyes, minds, and hearts wide open. Humanity must take this opportunity the New Age provides for them. If we resolve to ignore our universal consciousness, and our need to connect with our cosmic origins, we are doomed to failure as a species. We will never reach our ultimate potential if we continue our bitter divisiveness, alienation, and constant war. A higher state of consciousness awaits us.

What can you do to connect? Pay attention to what's going on in the world. Really look at it. Get a fresh perspective. Get your news from a non-corporate source, find out what they're not telling you. Ask yourself how you fit in the scheme of things, how can I participate in the human experience? Perhaps just taking the small step of getting involved in anything constructive is a possible start. Start recycling! Start embracing Science! Let go of ridiculous stereotypes! Connect to people of a different race, or religion, or culture! Talk to your fellow humans in a real way, not a superficial way! Shut off the TV once in awhile, freeing yourself from the corporate & government propaganda! Do you really need to know what Britney Spears is up to, or the latest game scores? Go sit alone in the woods for a hour and just study your environment. Notice the patterns of the bark on the trees, the shape of the leaves. Look at the living Earth all around you, the plant and animals are connected to you. You are them, they are you. We are all part of the same living system. Don't look for divinity in a book written by madmen. Look for it in yourself, its there waiting for you to discover it! Your cells know it's there, help your mind see it too. The universal memory can show you the divine. Your very atoms hold the essence of creation, we are born from stardust. Get in touch with them, for they hold the secrets of the Cosmos.
